

The Focus word for October is Trust

The verse for week 43 Oct. 18-24

All those who know your mercy, Lord, will count on you for help. For you have never yet forsaken those who trust in you. Psalm 9:10 Living Bible

God will never forsake those who seek him. To forsake someone is to abandon that person. God's promise does not mean that if we trust in him we will escape loss or suffering; it means that God himself will never leave us no matter what we face.

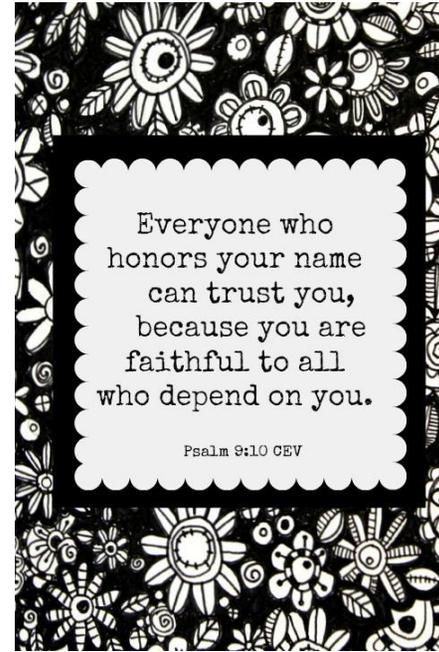

Key phrase: No Matter What.

I say that a lot and it is the anchor that holds me in a safe harbor BUT sometimes in the midst of junk, it is so foggy, I forget.

Gulp.

It has been happening in my life for the past few weeks. True story.

NOTE: I do not share for the sympathy; I share because this junk happens in all of our lives. Sometimes hearing about others trials and testimonies helps us in ways we would have never thought so today, I thought I would share so that when you are in the midst of whatever is happening, you will remember to trust.

I ask that my sharing stays within our group. I know that posting it to the "internet" opens a huge can of worms, but I just ask that you respect our group and what we share and not repost the content. Should you have a friend or loved one who needs some support and love, by all means, please invite them to come join our group.

To read my test of Trust, please copy and paste this link to your browser:

<http://homegrownhospitality.typepad.com/df/2015/10/a-test-of-trust.html>

Please note that if you feel the need to share, please always know that whatever you share with me stays private. I am always available to you by email at homegrown1@att.net